THERE'S NOTHING MORE SOCIAL THAN BEER...

Abbeydale Brewery started life all the way back in 1996, when our brewery founder Patrick Morton began to brew the beers he loved to drink in an old steelworks in the Sheffield suburb of Abbeydale.

We blend creativity and innovation with heritage and tradition, reflecting these values across our beers. Our house style could typically be described as pale and hoppy, led by our iconic cask ale, Moonshine - but that's not all we can do! As the beer world has evolved so have we, with our talented brewers adding all manner of beer styles from Double IPAs to mixed fermentation barrel aged saisons to our repertoire, continually pushing the boundaries of what we can create.

Our reputation has been built on producing consistently excellent beer, providing exceptional levels of customer service, and just a hint of eccentricity. We truly believe in the power of beer as a mechanism to bring people together, and strive to create a diverse and delicious range which covers the whole spectrum of beer drinkers.

Put simply, we love and celebrate great beer in all its forms!

WE'RE PROUDLY EMPLOYEE OWNED

In October 2024, Abbeydale Brewery, along with our pub The Rising Sun became 100% employee owned - strengthening our commitment to our team and our independence, and ensuring the legacy of the business for years to come. The trust is known as Sheffield Beerworks EOT Ltd, a company name collectively chosen by our Co-Owners.

We were named Employer of the Year in 2025, in recognition of this trailblazing move.

Truly people-powered beer!

OUR AWARDS

In our long history, our fantastic range of beers has won many awards, including our flagship beer Moonshine bringing home the bronze medal for golden ales at the prestigious Champion Beer of Britain awards in 2018. Plus our Black IPA, Black Mass, achieved the accolade of Overall Champion in the SIBA (Society of Independent Brewers) small pack awards in 2023, making it the best beer in can in the country! Head to the Beer Pages for more.

One of the awards we're most proud of is our brewery founder Pat's 2010 Lifetime Achievement award from CAMRA (the Campaign For Real Ale), recognising the huge contribution he has made to the beer industry.

We were honoured to receive the title of Best Brewery in South Yorkshire at the 2016 RateBeer Awards, following this up by scooping the Best Beer in South Yorkshire title in 2017.

SHEFFIELD: OUR CITY

Sheffield is a former steel town which stubbornly and lovingly retains many elements of its industrial heritage. The Abbeydale Road area in which the brewery is based is a vibrant part of the city which is home to a huge selection of independent businesses, including many excellent bars and pubs. It's a fantastic community which we're proud to be part of and support.

Sheffield also has a rich beer history, and boasts one of the highest number of breweries per capita in the country.

Our brewery founder, Patrick Morton, is familiar with our city's industrial past, his family owning Morton's Cutlery Works for generations. Although this industry has declined over the last century, we like to think that the rise of Sheffield as an independent brewing powerhouse reflects how our city has moved on, celebrating the past and using our experiences to create new life and industry on our own terms.

The whole history of Abbeydale Brewery is about embracing the experience of doing things our own way.

QUALITY CONTROL AND TRAINING

A commitment to learning, training, and personal development is a value instilled in us company-wide.

Many of our team across brewers, sales and marketing have been awarded the General Certificate in Brewery qualification, accredited by the Institute of Brewing & Distilling, so we have a deep understanding of brewing processes and can express ourselves creatively and professionally across a wide range of beer styles.

We're absolutely committed to the quality of our beer, and have a fully trained in-house sensory analysis panel, who strive to ensure consistency and quality control across our range.

We have also invested in the very best equipment to analyse our beer carefully and in detail. Our quality control processes are robust, precise and meticulously recorded, and we pride ourselves on achieving outstanding results and ensuring the highest levels of consistency.

We use a gluten reducing enzyme in all of our recipes, to produce a wide range of Gluten Free beers. Our beers are regularly tested at a UKAS accredited laboratory, and we use a lateral flow test prior to packaging before each and every batch of beer leaves the brewery, ensuring they contain under the 20 parts per million (PPM) threshold required to label them as Gluten Free. This process has no detrimental effect on the flavour or quality of the beer, and we label our products clearly to ensure your gluten sensitive customers have the information available to enjoy these beers with complete confidence. HERITAGE BEERS

Cask ale is a huge part of British culture, and of Abbeydale Brewery's history - a link to our past and a big part of our future. A well kept pint of independently brewed real ale, enjoyed in a traditional British pub, is for us one of life's great pleasures.

All of these beers have been with us for many years, some since our very beginnings in 1996, and have become an important part of the Yorkshire beer scene with many faithful followers.

In this brochure we have our permanently available Heritage beers, but we also produce specials in different series' that can provide variety and interest to your customers. These specials change regularly to keep our offering and beer fresh, check our website or drop us a line for current availability.

In 2016 we engaged Sheffield based Field Design and artist James Green to update the branding and ensure the beers continue to look as relevant today as they still taste. And in 2020 we made these beers available in can for the first time, using the same recipe as for cask with just a little sparkle added prior to packaging.

CASK BEER... A THING OF BEAUTY

MOONSHINE - 4.3% ABV GF

Our flagship pale ale, and most well-known beer – the most commonly found beer on Sheffield bars throughout the past decade. Moonshine has been in production since the origins of Abbeydale Brewery back in 1996, when we were one of the pioneers experimenting with American hops which had rarely before been seen in the UK.

Over 25 years on, Moonshine is still a firm favourite of many. Hopped with Willamette, Delta, Citra, Chinook & Centennial, this is a beautifully well-balanced pale perfect for any occasion.

FUNK DUNGEON

MIND YOUR HEAD...

Our much acclaimed mixed fermentation project was established in 2018, led by our brewer Jim Rangeley. The beers released within this range are aged and often soured in barrel to produce unique and experimental nano-batch brews.

We use mainly neutral barrel stock, as the interaction between beer, wood, and time is something which is of huge interest to us, alongside the development of our own “house” cultures. This allows us to release an eclectic and exciting selection of beers, highlighting healthy fermentation and great flavour.

The Funk Dungeon range was the recipient of the Brewers Journal “Branding of the Year” Award in 2022, and Jim himself won the title of “Brewer of the Year” in 2024.

SPARKLING HOP WATER

The first alcohol free offering from Abbeydale Brewery

More people than ever are embracing no and low alcohol alternatives to their usual tittle, and this trend looks set to continue.

Whilst we have absolutely no plans to stop making our beers, we do want to make sure we're adapting to what our drinkers want to drink, so that means adding something completely new to our range - introducing our Sparkling Hop Water.

We start with the very same Yorkshire water we use for our award-winning beers, infused with carefully chosen hops from our magnificent hop store. A dash of lemon juice to lift and a burst of bubbles... and that's it! We like to think of this process as a fresh take on tradition and showing off our ingredients in a whole new way.

No artificial flavourings, sugar and caffeine free, naturally low in calories and carbohydrates, vegan friendly and gluten free.

0% ALCOHOL, 100% REFRESHING.

COLLABORATIONS & COMMUNITY

The power of collaboration is really important to us, so we love to build relationships with not just other breweries but businesses from other industries who share our values too. This spirit of community and collaboration sits right at the core of our ethos.

We've worked with amazing breweries from around the globe, including Thornbridge, Siren Craft Brew and Magic Rock from the UK, and GABF Gold Medal winning breweries NoDa and Griffinclaw Brewing from the United States. Plus we've created beers with local tea merchants Birdhouse, chocolate makers Bullion, hop suppliers Yakima Chief and many more!

We also undertake a wide array of charity work, focusing on small local charities and supporting our customers in their fundraising endeavours. Charities we have worked with over the past decade have collectively benefited from over £20,000 of donations.
